Innovex

Recruiting for: Full-time

Our comprehensive portfolio extends throughout the lifecycle of the well; and innovative product integration ensures seamless transitions from one well phase to the next, driving efficiency, lowering cost, and reducing the rig site service footprint for the customer.

With locations throughout North America, Latin America, Europe, the Middle East and Asia, no matter where you need us, our team is readily available with technical expertise, conventional and innovative technologies, and ever-present customer service.

Removing internal communication barriers ensures the team has access to the right people at the right time – including our highly-skilled engineers and fully engaged leadership team. This accessibility accelerates our decision-making process and, in turn, our responsiveness to our customers. With the barrier between Innovex and the customer removed, our team can identify your current needs, anticipate future challenges, and cross-collaborate to solve those challenges. We call it NO BARRIERS. <https://www.innovex-inc.com/>
